

Where Are They Now?

Studying for M.A. at East London University

FATMA DURMUSH

At Mary Ward, Fatma joined the GNVQ in Art & Design and progressed to the Access Into Art course, which led to a place on a BA degree course at University. Fatma achieved this and is now studying for her MA.

"I have just finished doing my Art Degree at East London University. It was an enjoyable and friendly place. There were a lot of other disabled people. So I fitted in. Now I am doing an MA and I find that it is hard but I must do it!"

Disability is no bar to Education!
