

Where Are They Now?

Studying for B.A. at University of East London

HANNAH PAMELA ROGERS

I'm now studying in the 2nd year of a Fine Art BA. (Hons.) at UEL and have shown my artwork in several successful exhibitions.

The Mary Ward Centre has a very friendly environment and a special and helpful way of teaching. The tutorials from the teachers were very helpful. It helped me develop my work as an artist and gave me a structure to help me get into university. Even now I often go back to my sketchbooks from the Mary Ward Centre for reference and ideas. Even though now I'm at university I would always remember the Mary Ward Centre and recommend it to anyone.

←The Dancers

"Hats off" to a new career through Education!