

Where Are They Now?

Studying for B.A. at Chelsea College of Art

KOSTAS GEORGIOU

"I am now in my 3rd and final year at Chelsea College of Art and Design, doing a BA in Fine Art after having completed the Access to Art course at the Mary Ward.

Little did I think that after starting a beginner's painting and drawing course 6/7 years ago that I would now be at university. I still have to pinch myself sometimes just to make sure it's true. I put this down to the tremendous encouragement and support from all the tutors and staff at the Mary Ward without whom I would not be where I am today."

← Involutions across the event horizon" is one of a series of abstract paintings which have recently been exhibited.
