ENRICHING AND TRANSFORMING LIVES

WELCOME TO MARY WARD AUTUMN 23!

Mary Ward believes that learning is a lifelong pursuit, and specialise in providing courses for adults ranging from 19 to 90 years old,

Mary Ward is recognised as one of London's leading institutes for adult learning, with over 100 years of experience, and offers courses during the daytime, evening, and weekends, allowing students to conveniently fit learning into busy lives.

The centre prides itself on being known as "the friendly place to learn." In addition to receiving high-quality learning, students benefit from the support and encouragement necessary to make the most of their educational experience.

We are looking forward to moving to our new home this September in Stratford High Street, replacing our current location at Queen Square. The decision to choose this site was influenced by its excellent local transport links, including being less than a 10-minute walk from Stratford's main station, which offers underground, overground, DLR, and national rail services. It is also just 2 minutes away from Stratford High Street DLR Station, with a bus station located outside the main Stratford station.

Mary Ward has collaborated with architects AWW to design a building that reflects their unique, friendly, and non-corporate approach while providing practical and functional spaces. The new building will feature five additional classrooms, as well as larger specialist rooms for art, textiles, sculpture and ceramics, and crafts. Additionally, there will be a fitness and performance room, a dedicated IT room, and ample learning spaces that are spacious, well-lit, and naturally ventilated. Accessibility is prioritized with level access to classrooms from two passenger lifts that span all floors.

The new building will incorporate sustainable features, including solar panels, thermally efficient glass, and sustainably sourced materials, aligned with the BREEAM framework for sustainable construction. Safety and security measures have been implemented through collaboration with the Metropolitan Police Safer by Design initiative.

The move to Stratford will allow the Adult Education Centre and the Mary Ward Legal Centre to share a home once again, providing a range of courses for adults, legal advice, and community projects.

ESSENTIAL SKILLS AT MARY WARD

Mary Ward is the friendly place to learn, from booking an assessment to a place in class, there is someone here to help.

Classes are once or twice a week, day and evening, some are at our centres and others online. Teachers at the assessment will talk to students about what is best for them.

Highly qualified, professional teachers will support learning from start to finish.

Towards the end of each course, teachers will give advice about next steps; whether this is the next level or a whole new avenue, to get people into work, a new job or develop further life skills.

FEES

For most people living in London, Essential Skills courses will be free. Teachers will discuss fees with students at assessment.

ADULT ENGLISH LITERACY

We provide courses that are perfect for people who have English as their first language or have spoken English from a young age but want to improve their reading and writing skills.

Students on our English Literacy courses will gain confidence in speaking and listening skills and develop their reading and writing too. We offer specialist support for students with dyslexia and specific learning differences. Students can take a variety of exams in speaking and listening, reading, and writing when they are ready.

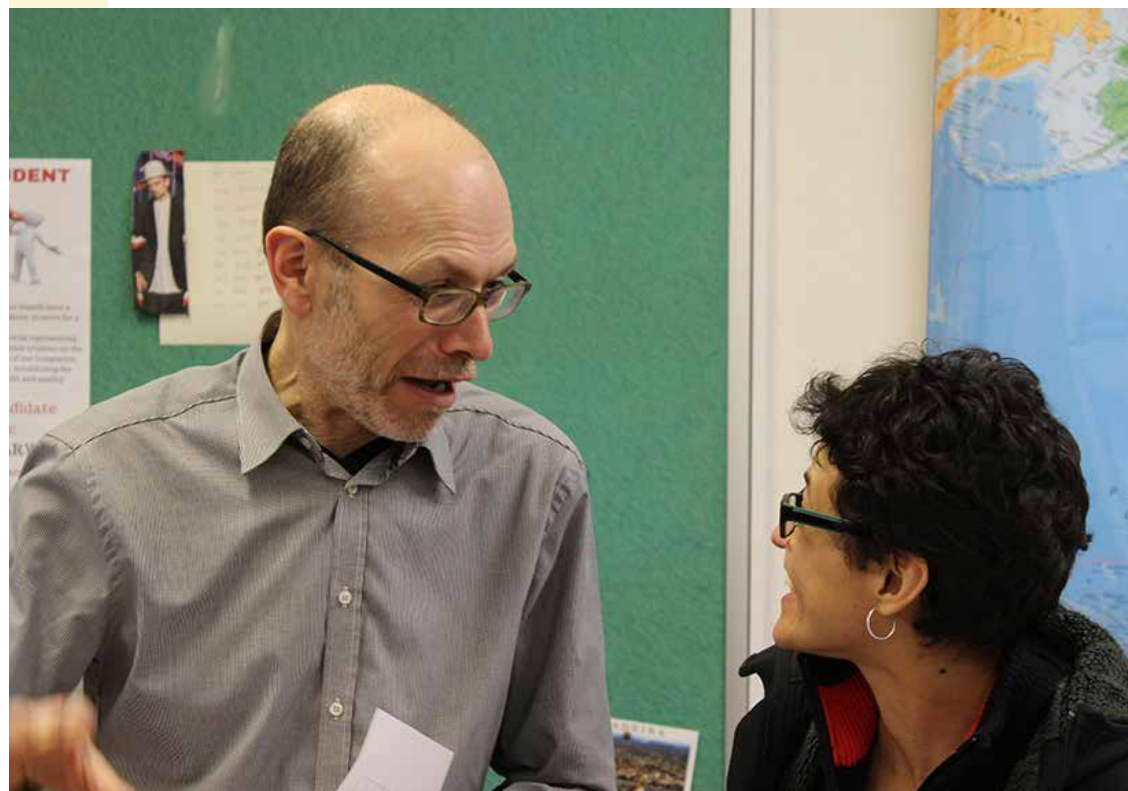

ENGLISH, MATHS & IT PLUS FOR ADULTS

A chance to gain basic computer skills such as word processing and internet searching, and learn to use a phone and tablet. Minimum course entry requirement is E2 English/ESOL. An assessment is required pre-course.

MATHS FOR ADULTS

Nervous of numbers? Frightened of fractions? Gain confidence and enable the use of maths in everyday life, at work, or with children. These courses prepare students for exams up to GCSE level.

An assessment is required before the course starts.

SKILLS FOR WORK & PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

FREE COURSES

If you are unemployed and in receipt of JSA/ESA or Universal Credit or in receipt of another income related benefit, courses in this section may be FREE. If you work but earn less than the London Living wage your class may be free.
